SENATE POLICY

Policy on Admission Requirement Changes which affect High School Curricula and High School Student Preparation for University

(Senate-approved: May 12, 2004)

1. Changes to admission requirements, to first-year university curricula, and to first-year courses that necessitate changes to course offerings by the high schools or that necessitate changes to a high school student's choice of program of study, shall take effect no earlier than 18 months following their approval.
2. Immediately following their approval, high schools shall be notified of the changes made to admission requirements, to first-year university curricula, or to first-year courses that necessitate changes to course offerings by the high schools or that necessitate changes to a high school student's choice of program of study, so that they may advise their students accordingly.
